Jodi Bailey joins Circle of Success Inc® as Program Manager

The Circle of Success, Inc® early learning program has hired Jodi Bailey as the Program Manager for their early learning program. Jodi is a lifelong Yakima-area resident and comes to Circle of Success with 9 years of experience as a Speech-Language Pathologist in local schools and at the Yakima Valley Hearing and Speech Center. She also directed parent education groups at Children's Village. Her position at Circle of Success includes developing the Imagination Library early literacy program and fundraising.

Jodi attended Yakima Valley Community College and is a graduate of Washington State University in Speech and Hearing Sciences. Jodi is an active member of Junior League of Yakima. She is married to Mike Bailey, a teacher at East Valley High School and coach of the Yakima Beetles American Legion baseball team. Jodi and Mike are the parents of two young, active children.

Jodi states, "I have a whole-hearted belief that with the help of early childhood education, parents, caregivers and community resources, children will be successful when entering the school system." She joins Circle of Success seeking to further develop her career in early child development and family services and she is excited about the prospect of making a contribution to Circle of Success.
